PREFACE.

A poet of great critical observation has remarked :

Whoever thinks a perfect work to see,
Thinks what ne'er was, nor is, nor e'er will be ;

and whoever expects to find a perfect directory of any city, must wait until that city is finished. During our absence for several weeks as juryman at Ipswich, a few omissions occurred, which we have endeavored to supply on page 141. We shall be more particular in all respects in our next number.

MAP OF LYNN AT ITS SETTLEMENT,

BY ALONZO LEWIS.

LYNN.

LYNN is one of the oldest towns in Massachusetts. Its settlement was begun in 1629. The earlier towns are Plymouth, Weymouth, Braintree, Boston, Charlestown and Salem. Lynn was incorporated in 1630, and those persons err who date the incorporation at any other time. In that year the freemen of the eight towns of Salem, Lynn, Boston, Charlestown, Roxbury, Dorchester, Cambridge and Watertown, assembled at Boston, in one great court, which was thence called the General Court. No formal act of incorporation was ever passed for either of these towns, but the act of their assembling was an incorporation. In 1634, instead of a general attendance, the people found it more convenient to have a representative government, and the town sent three representatives, as may be seen, with many other interesting particulars, in the History of Lynn. The Indian name of the town was Saugus, which was changed to Lynn in 1637. Two towns, now called Lynnfield and Saugus, have since been separated from it. Having existed as a town for two hundred and twenty-one years, Lynn was instituted a city on the thirteenth of May, 1850. The previous cities are Boston, Salem, Lowell, Roxbury, Cambridge, Charlestown, New Bedford and Worcester. The opposite engraving represents Lynn, then called Saugus, at its early settlement. It was bounded on the northeast by Naumkeag, now Salem, and on the southwest by Winnisimmet, then part of Boston.

Lynn is pleasantly situated on the northern shore of Massachusetts Bay, nine miles northeast from Boston. In variety of scenery, it is probably not surpassed by any town in the union; embracing all the diversity of mountain, hill, valley, plain, field, forest, grove, glade, vale, dale, marsh, meadow, bog, swamp, ocean, bay, lake, pond, river, estuary, channel, harbor, brook, rill, spring, creek, cove, cavern, cliff, cape, grotto, glen, dell, fissure, ledge, bar, bank, bluff, beach, precipice, promontory, peninsula, isthmus and island. Very pleasant and extensive views may be obtained from High Rock, Forest Rock, Lover's Leap, Pine Hill, Tower Hill, Sagamore Hill, Poquannum Hill, Wenepoykin Hill, and many other places.

Lynn extends about six miles on the sea shore from east to west; and, including Nahant, it spreads out eight miles from south to north, containing fourteen square miles. It is bounded on the west by Saugus, on the north by Lynnfield, on the east by Danvers and Salem, and on the south by the ocean. It contains fifteen churches; nine principal, six intermediate, and eighteen primary schools, a high school, an academy, and several private schools. It has a Natural History Society, possessing a valuable collection of curiosities, with a library of about twelve hundred volumes attached. There is also a small library at Nahant, the gift of Boston gentlemen. There are few books in Lynn in proportion to its population. Two newspapers are published here, the Lynn News and the Bay State. The other public buildings are the City Hall, Lyceum Hall, Exchange Hall, and Sagamore Hall. The houses of entertainment are the City Hotel, Lynn Hotel, Railroad House, and Washington House. At Swampscot are the Atlantic House, Swampscot House, and Marshall House. At Nahant are Drew's Hotel, Whitney's Hotel, Rice's House, and Johnson's House. There is much travel through Lynn, on the old eastern road, and on the turnpike from Salem to Boston. It is also intersected by the Eastern Railroad, on which about twenty trains of cars pass daily.

NAHANT.

On the south of Lynn, nearly surrounded by the ocean, is the peninsula of Nahant, six miles in circumference, connected to the main land by a broad isthmus beach, nearly two miles in length. Besides the permanent inhabitants, Nahant contains the summer residences of many citizens of Boston, and is one of the most agreeable watering places in the union. The Directory of Nahant precedes that of Lynn.

SWAMPSCOT.

The eastern extremity of Lynn is called by its Indian name, Swampscot. The inhabitants of this portion are mostly fishermen. Swampscot is conveniently designated from the rest of the town by a straight line from the bridge over Stacey's brook to the east end of Cherry street, and in the same direction to the Salem line. Here are some of the finest villas and villa-sites in New England. In compliance with the request of the people, as well as for convenient reference, a separate Directory of Swampscot has been made, which follows that of Nahant.

VILLAGES AND LAKES.

The most thickly settled part of Lynn is a plain between the hills and the sea. Near the western boundary of the town is Tower Hill, on the west of which is the picturesque vale of Saugus River. In the northeastern part of the town is the village of Gravesend, which occupies a plain around a beautiful sheet of water called Wcnuchus Lake. More northerly is the pleasant village of Wyoma, bordering on Wyoma Lake. There are five other lakes in this neighborhood. The northwestern part of the city is a mountainous forest of several miles in extent, comprising a great variety of scenery; which, when it shall be traversed by winding avenues, will furnish delightful retreats for those who shall have the taste to occupy them.

CENSUS OF LYNN.

For the first century after the settlement of the towns in New England, there seems to have been no census taken; or, if the inhabitants were numbered, no record has been preserved. In 1638, when Boston was "a village containing 20 or 30 houses," it is certain that Lynn had more than one hundred families. Being a farming town, including a territory six times larger than Boston, it naturally invited settlers; and after the opening of the iron works, the number was greatly increased. But as many families afterward moved away to form new settlements, the number of inhabitants at no time, during the first century, exceeded two thousand. The first recorded census was taken in 1765, when the number was 2,198. After the revolution the census was again taken in 1790, when the number was 2,291. The following table exhibits the census as taken at eight periods.

1765	2,198	1820	4,515
1790	2,291	1830	6,138
1800	2,837	1840	9,367
1810	4,087	1850	13,613

It will be seen that for twenty-five years, the increase was only 93. From 1790 to 1800, the increase was 546, or a fraction less than 25 per cent. From 1800 to 1810, after it had become decidedly a shoemaking town, the increase was 1,250 or 44 per cent. Between the years 1810 and 1820, after Saugus, with its 748 inhabitants, had been separated from it, the increase was found to be 1,176, or about 28 per cent. From 1820 to 1830, the increase was 1,623, or 36 per cent. In 1830 the Map and History of Lynn were published, and being widely circulated, and extensively noticed in public papers, perhaps they had some influence in giving a new impulse to the place, by calling attention to it; and the increase for the next ten years was 3,229, or 51 per cent. For the last ten years, from 1840 to 1850, the increase has not been quite so rapid, being 4,039 or 43 per cent.

The particular census of the city, as taken for this Directory, exhibits the following results:

	Males.	Females.	Excess of Females.
In Lynn proper,	6,082	6,393	311
Swampscot,	436	465	29
Nahant,	121	116	5 less.
	<hr/>	<hr/>	<hr/>
	6,639	6,974	335
		6,639
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Total,		13,613

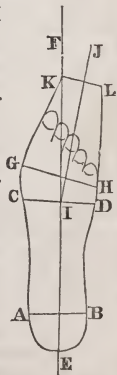

Should the organization of the city government give a new start to the business and prosperity of the place, and the increase be as it was for ten years after 1830, the city in 1860, or in ten years more, will number 20,000 inhabitants.

THE SHOE BUSINESS.

The inhabitants of Lynn for the first century were mostly farmers, but gradually they gave their attention to the manufacture of women's shoes, and that is now the principal business. The stock for the shoes is cut in the larger buildings, called manufactories, by men termed clickers. The upper parts are then tied in packages and given to females, who reside at their own homes, to be bound. They are then returned to the manufactories, where they are put together in bundles with the soles, and distributed to the workmen, who make the shoes in small—quite too small—shops, usually at or near their own homes. The workmen are called cordwainers, or more properly cordovaniers; the word being derived from the Cordovan leather, originally manufactured at Cordova in Spain, from goat skins brought from Morocco in Africa. When the shoes are finished, they are packed at the manufactories, in wooden boxes, usually containing about sixty pairs, and sent to all places where there is a demand for them. A few of the nicer sort of shoes and buskins are packed in paper boxes of a smaller size. Some interesting statistics of Lynn, and particularly of the shoe business, will be found near the end of this volume.

It may seem a work of supererogation for a civil engineer to attempt to teach a shoemaker; but as it happens to be a simple fact that no lasts are made to fit the feet, and having for many years suffered more torments than Peter Pindar's pilgrim from ill-shaped shoes, we shall venture, out of our pure regard for suffering humanity, to suggest an improvement. Nothing like science has ever been introduced into the construction of a last or shoe. It is quite time that a beginning were made. We shall take out no patent for our invention, though thousands of patents have been given for things of less importance. It should be observed that the feet of many persons have an outward inclination at the toe. To crowd such a foot into a shoe made on a straight last is only a protracted torture. Now any person may have a shoe fitted to the foot, and exchange corns and torture for comfort in walking, by having a last made by the following rule:—Place the naked foot on a piece of pasteboard, and with a pencil draw the exact outline. Then through the centre of the heel draw the line A B, and through the ball of the foot the line C D; and through the centres of these lines, draw the line E F. Then through the foot near the toes draw the line G H a little sloping, and through the centre of this line draw the line I J. Next, on the slope of the great toe, draw the line G K to an agreeable length beyond the toe. At the end of this line, and at right angles with I J, draw the lines K L and L H D. Then instead of making the last straight on the line E F, make it on the line E I J and the outline, and the thing is done. The last may have a singular shape, but the effect of the shoe will only be to give the foot the appearance of toeing out a little more, and that is generally considered an elegance. All that is further required, either for beauty or comfort, is for people to make broad-toed shoes fashionable. Another thing which has been entirely overlooked, or not understood, is, that the centre of gravity, or the centre of weight, should be in the centre of the heel. In other words, the centre of the heel should be directly beneath the centre of the leg, as in fig. 1. The leg then rests firmly upon the heel, like a column upon its pedestal; the foot remains in its place, and the tread is natural and unconstrained. But when the heel is made short, and put far back, as in fig. 2, the centre of weight falls in front of the heel. The foot does not then fall naturally into its place, but the sole is bent, as in fig. 3; the heel is turned outward, the broad part of the foot is thrown forward into the narrow part of the shoe, the cords are strained, the tread is unsafe, the gait awkward and unnatural, and the foot uneasy, cramped and pained. This is the reason why a shoe sometimes seems large enough when first put on, but afterwards appears too small and bursts near the toe. No one will deem these remarks improper, but will rather be grateful for them, when it is considered that the two principles we have explained affect the comfort of millions of the human family. Science has long had a place in the head; it is well that it should occasionally be applied to the feet, that it may affect the under-standing in all respects.

THE DIRECTORY.

Much care has been taken to make this Directory correct in all its details; but the trouble of numbering all the houses, taking the census, and obtaining statistics over so large an area, has been very great. The labor has been increased by the omission of many persons to give the whole of their names. The intermediate letter often forms the only distinction in a place where so many persons have the same primary name. It would be better if parents would give their children names not quite so common, even if they have to invent new names. A still greater difficulty has been occasioned by the custom of many people to "keep moving." To find such families, it would be as useful to consult the list of voters as the Directory. It was a saying of that wise observer, Dr. Franklin, that "Three removes are as bad as a fire." And again he says,

"I never knew an oft remov-ed tree,
Nor yet an oft remov-ed family,
That throve so well as those that settled be."

If young men would seek to have fixed abodes of their own among the many lovely hills and dales that abound in the city, and spend their leisure hours in reading and study, and form societies for mutual improvement, they might find their happiness greatly augmented.

NUMBERING THE HOUSES.

It will be noticed that the odd numbers are placed on one side of the streets, and the even numbers on the other, excepting in North and South Common streets, where the buildings are numbered continuously. If the people will have the kindness to put the numbers over their doors, as they will find them in this Directory, the public will be very greatly accommodated, and the labor of making succeeding directories will be materially lessened.

In numbering the houses, the people will perceive the propriety of omitting as many numbers, where there are spaces between the houses, as it is probable there will be buildings in future to occupy those spaces. It is proper to remind persons who remove buildings into other streets, that the old numbers should be taken off, and a new one put in its place, otherwise confusion will be caused. It is also very desirable that signs should be placed upon the corners of the streets.

In naming new streets, people are often at a loss for names. It might be well, having exhausted the names of all the trees of the forest, and of eminent men, to take the names of states, or, more fancifully, of females. What could be prettier than Caroline or Ianthe street ?

IMPROVEMENTS.

Most persons are pleased with external beauty in dwellings as well as in persons ; therefore it is proper to call the attention of those who erect new buildings to the importance of having a design from the hand of taste. Many people imagine that to pay a surveyor for measuring the grounds, or an architect for preparing a plan, is a mere waste of money ; but if they knew, as well as we do, the many quarrels and law suits that are occasioned by a neglect of the former, and the great saving that may be made in carpenters' bills by attending to the latter, they would soon change their opinions in regard to these matters. As few people have leisure to consult works on architecture, it will not be improper to suggest a few evils which should be avoided. Great improvement has been manifested within a few years in the construction of houses and cottages, but there is room for much more. It is very displeasing to good taste to see a spot which the Creator has beautified with natural loveliness, marred into deformity by the erection of some uncouth structure, devoid alike of style, symmetry, or convenience. The practice of putting Gothic cupolas upon Grecian churches, and inserting Gothic windows beneath Grecian mouldings, is only not offensive to those who have not formed the first conception of correct taste. Still more objectionable is the custom of building a dwelling house in the form of a Corinthian temple, and cutting windows through the entablature. The addition of ornamental gables upon cottages, when directed by enlightened skill and taste, is exceedingly pleasant ; but when uncouth figures are cut from thin boards, by those who seem to imagine that what is fantastic must be beautiful, because it is new, that which was intended for ornament becomes ridiculous, and makes us sigh for simplicity. To be sure, every man has a right to build such a house as he may like, and so a woman has a right to dress as she pleases ; but if she dress preposterously we have a right to laugh at the display of her fancy. The difference however is in favor of the latter ; for if a woman enrobe herself absurdly, there is a relief to the mind in the probability that she will change her dress in a month ; but if a man builds an uncouth fabric, it must remain until a better taste or the merciful hand of time shall remove it. The practice of constructing piazzas where there is no door or long window to enter upon them, is absurd ; as is the custom of placing shields over the windows of a lower story, which are already protected by a piazza roof. Every one would perceive the absurdity of wearing a cap beneath a broad-brimmed hat. It is often convenient to have basement rooms, especially where the ground seems to require them ; but to construct such where they are not so required, and where there is room to have the kitchen on the same floor, is generally in bad taste ; and to live in them still worse, as it is detrimental to health. But if people will have cellar kitchens, it is well, if possible, to avoid placing them on the street side, where there is no place for the offal and slops but the sidewalk. A house elevated upon pillars is commonly as offensive to good taste as would be a man walking through the streets upon stilts. The builder of such a fabric forgets, or more probably never heard, the advice of John Rogers, the martyr, to his children, "Build not your house too high!" One of the greatest ornaments to a house is the chimney top ; but nothing is more common than to see a building deformed by an uncouth chimney. We have often constructed plans for cottages, and directed the workmen to finish the chimney with a base, as represented at A, but they usually mar the design, by carrying it up as at B. Among all the cottages built in accordance with our plans, there is not a single chimney which the owner has found it requisite to surmount with smoke-drawers. When chimneys project from the summit of a roof, they appear to be supported by it, and when properly constructed, they impart a finish and a beauty to the house. They also invariably draw better, than when they are placed near the eaves. A book devoted exclusively to chimneys, showing the best method of constructing them so as to carry smoke and prevent fire, with designs for ornamental chimney tops, exhibiting minutely the method of laying brick modillions and cornices, would be of great service. It is somewhat surprising that people who erect large and valuable buildings in thickly populated streets, should build so many with clapboards and shingles; especially in a place that abounds with clay, and where there is rock material enough for all the houses in Lynn for five centuries to come. They will probably improve upon this wooden custom, when a few destructive fires shall have taught them better. As our streets, generally, are fifty feet or more, in width, and in excellent repair, there is little to be said on that subject, except that it might be well to plow down certain hills and high places to obtain gravel. As our citizens are also very neat in regard to the appearance of their houses, keeping them in good repair and well painted, they need no suggestion on that subject; only if their eyes were offended, as ours are, with the incessant glare of white, they would occasionally vary them by the introduction of some more fanciful color. This glare might be pleasantly relieved by the multiplication of shade trees. Indeed there would be no cheaper or more agreeable mode of ornamenting the city, than by setting trees through all the streets.

BOUNDARIES OF WARDS.

These boundaries are copied from the records. They contain a great amount of verbiage, and are still indefinite. The ward boundaries in Salem are expressed in seven lines.

WARD 1.—SWAMPSCOT.—To commence at the bridge which crosses Stacey's brook near King's beach, then running northerly to the southern corner of Ebenezer Burrill's field, then northeast to the Salem line, thence following the Salem line to the ocean, following its margin to the first boundary.

WARD 2.—WOODEND.—To commence at the bridge which crosses Stacey's brook near King's beach, to run on the seashore westerly to a point that would intersect with the continuation of Atlantic street to the ocean, thence through the centre of Atlantic street to a pump at the head of Chestnut street, thence on a direct line to Newhall's court, passing through the centre of said court to Essex street, to include all the houses in Chestnut street, and all, if any, that it may intersect in passing to Newhall's court, thence northerly to a bridge in Chestnut street, near John Carrage's house, thence north to Salem line, and to run down on the Salem line until it intersects with ward 1, and to include all territory within these lines and west of ward 1.

WARD 3.—GRAVESEND.—To commence on Chestnut street at the bridge near John Carrage's house, to run westerly to the point that Maple street intersects the Salem turnpike, thence northwesterly to Forest Rock in Pine Grove Cemetery, thence northeast to Mansfield's Hill, thence to a bridge at the western end of Spring pond, then southeasterly on the Salem line until it intersects the line of ward 2.

WARD 4.—CENTRAL DEPOT.—To commence at the pump at the head of Chestnut street, to run southeast through the centre of Atlantic street to the ocean, thence by the shore to the eastern end of Long Beach, where Beach street intersects said beach, thence westerly by the shore to the western end of the Railroad House, thence northwesterly to the bridge at the head of Harrison Court, thence northerly on a direct line to the magazine in Rock's Pasture, thence northwesterly to the point that Maple street intersects Salem turnpike, from thence to bridge near John Carrage's house, and from thence on the westerly line of ward 2, to pump at the head of Chestnut street.

WARD 5.—MARKET STREET.—To commence at the bridge at the head of Harrison court in Market street, and run to the westerly end of Railroad House, and continue the shore round until it intersects a continued line of Shepard street to said shore, thence northerly to the house of Kimball Ramsdell, including said house and the western side of Shepard street, from thence to the western end of the house of the late Micajah Newhall, and all the houses intersected by this line to be in ward 5; thence to the western end of Capt. Bubier's house, thence by the eastern side of Lover's Leap to the northwest corner of J. C. Stickney's ground, and all houses intersected by these lines from said Newhall's house to belong to ward 6, and from thence to the centre of Forest Rock in Pine Grove Cemetery, from thence to the point that Maple street intersects the turnpike, thence to the magazine in Rock's Pasture, thence to the bridge in Market street, and all houses intersected in the last line to be in ward 5.

WARD 6.—LYNN HOTEL.—To commence at the western end of Kimball Ramsdell's house, to run to the shore on the western line of ward 5, thence to continue the shore round to Fox Hill bridge, then to follow the stream to Chase's mills, thence to follow the stream until it intersects Boston street at the foot of Tower Hill, thence northerly to the western end of J. G. Perley's house, and William Mulliken's, to Sadler's Rock, thence easterly to northwest corner of J. C. Stickney's land, thence southerly, on the eastern side of Lover's Leap, to the house of Capt. Bubier, thence to house of late Micajah Newhall, and all houses intersected by the last two lines to be in ward 6, thence to house of Kimball Ramsdell.

WARD 7.—TOWER HILL.—To include all the inhabitants west of ward 6 and south of ward 9.

WARD 8.—NAHANT.—To include the peninsula of Nahant and Long Beach, until it intersects with the lines of wards 2 and 4.

WARD 9.—WYOMA.—To commence at the bridge at the western end of Spring pond, and to run to Mansfield's Hill, thence to Forest Rock in Pine Grove Cemetery, thence to northwest corner of J. C. Stickney's ground, thence to Sadler's Rock, thence north to Dungeon Rock, thence west to Saugus line, and to continue the outer boundary of Lynn until it reaches the point from which it started.

AN ACT

TO ESTABLISH THE CITY OF LYNN.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

SECT. 1. The inhabitants of the town of Lynn shall continue to be a body politic and corporate, under the name of the City of Lynn, and, as such, shall have, exercise, and enjoy, all the rights, immunities, powers, and privileges, and shall be subject to all the duties and obligations, now incumbent upon, and appertaining to, said town, as a municipal corporation.

SECT. 2. The administration of all the fiscal, prudential, and municipal affairs of said city, with the government thereof, shall be vested in one principal officer, to be styled the mayor; one council of eight, to be called the board of aldermen; and one council of twenty-five, to be called the common council; which boards, in their joint capacity, shall be denominated the city council, and the members thereof shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their respective offices. A majority of each board shall constitute a quorum for doing business.

SECT. 3. It shall be the duty of the selectmen of the town of Lynn, as soon as may be after the passage of this act and its acceptance by the inhabitants, as hereinafter provided, to divide said town into nine wards, as follows, to wit:—To constitute the peninsula of Nahant one ward, which ward shall be entitled to one member of the common council and one member of the school committee, and to continue the division lines of school district number one, which ward shall be entitled to two members of the common council and one member of the school committee; to continue the division lines of school districts numbers three, seven, and nine, which shall form three wards, and each shall be entitled to one member of the common council, and each one member of the school committee; and to continue the division lines of school district number two, to form one ward, which shall have four members of the common council and two members of the school committee; also, to continue the division lines of school districts numbers four, five and six, which shall form three wards, and each shall be entitled to five members of the common council, and each two members of the school committee; and the school committee so chosen shall have the care and superintendence of the public schools. Each ward shall, also, be entitled to one assessor. And the city council shall, once in five years, revise and alter, if it be needful, the boundaries of the wards, by the vote of a majority, present and voting thereon.

SECT. 4. On the second Monday in March, annually, there shall be chosen, by ballot, in each of said wards, a warden, clerk, and three inspectors of elections, residents of wards in which they are chosen, who shall hold their offices for one year, and until others shall have been chosen in their places, and qualified to act. It shall be the duty of such warden to preside at all ward meetings, with the power of moderators of town meetings; and if, at any meeting, the warden shall not be present, the clerk of such ward shall call the meeting to order, and preside until a warden pro tempore shall be chosen by ballot. And if, at any meeting, the clerk shall not be present, a clerk pro tempore shall be chosen by ballot. The clerk shall record all the proceedings and certify the votes given, and deliver over, to his successor in office, all such records and journals, together with all other documents and papers held by him in said capacity. And it shall be the duty of the inspectors of elections to assist the warden, in receiving, assorting, and counting the votes. And the warden, clerk, and inspectors so chosen shall respectively make oath, or affirmation, faithfully and impartially to discharge their several duties relative to all elections, which oath may be administered by the clerk of such ward to the warden, and by the warden to the clerk and inspectors, or by any justice of the peace for the county of Essex. All warrants for meetings of the citizens for municipal purposes, to be held either in wards, or in general meetings, shall be issued by the mayor and aldermen, and shall be in such form, and shall be served, executed and returned, in such manner, and at such times, as the city council may, by any by-law, direct.

SECT. 5. The mayor, aldermen, and five overseers of the poor, to be selected from the city at large, shall be elected by the qualified voters, voting in their respective wards; and not more than two aldermen, nor more than one overseer of the poor, shall be taken from any one ward. The common councilmen, school committee, and assessors, shall be elected from, and by the voters of, each ward, and shall be residents of the wards in which they are elected. All said officers shall be chosen by ballot, and shall hold their offices for one year, from the first Monday in April, and until others shall be elected and qualified.

SECT. 6. On the second Monday in March, annually, the qualified voters in each ward shall give in their votes for mayor, aldermen, and common councilmen, overseers of the poor, school committee, assessors, warden, clerk, and inspectors, as provided in the preceding sections; and all the votes, so given, shall be assorted, counted, declared and registered in open ward meeting, by causing the names of persons voted for, and the number of votes given for each, to be written in the ward records, in words at length. The clerk of the ward, within twenty-four hours after such election, shall deliver to the persons elected members of the common council, school committee, and assessors, certificates of their election, signed by the warden and clerk, and by a majority of the inspectors of elections, and shall deliver, to the city clerk, a copy of the records of such elections certified in like manner: provided, however, that, if the choice of the common councilmen, school committee, and assessors, cannot be conveniently effected on that day, the meeting may be adjourned from time to time, to complete such election. The board of aldermen shall, as soon as conveniently may be, examine the copies of records of the several wards, certified as aforesaid, and shall cause the person who may have been elected mayor, to be notified, in writing, of his election; but, if it shall appear that no person has received a majority of all the votes, or, if the person elected shall refuse to accept the office, the board shall issue their warrants for a new election, and the same proceedings shall be had as are herein before provided, for the choice of a mayor, and repeated, from time to time, until a mayor shall be chosen.

In case of the decease, resignation, or absence of the mayor, or his inability to perform the duties of his office, it shall be the duty of the board of aldermen and the common council, in convention, to elect a mayor to serve during the unexpired term, or until the occasion, causing the vacancy, is removed. And if it shall appear that the whole number of aldermen, or the whole number of overseers of the poor, have not been elected, the same proceedings shall be had as are herein before provided for the choice of mayor. Each alderman, and each overseer of the poor, shall be notified, in writing, of his election, by the mayor and aldermen for the time being.

The oath prescribed by this act shall be administered to the mayor by the city clerk, or any justice of the peace for the county of Essex.

The aldermen and common councilmen elect shall, on the first Monday of April, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, meet in convention, when the oath required by this act shall be administered to the members of the two boards present, by the mayor, or by any justice of the peace for the county of Essex; and a certificate of such oath having been taken, shall be entered on a journal of the mayor and aldermen, and of the common council, by their respective clerks.

And whenever it shall appear that no mayor has been elected previously to the said first Monday in April, the mayor and aldermen, for the time being, shall make a record of that fact; an attested copy of which, the city clerk shall read at the opening of the convention to be held as aforesaid.

After the oath has been administered as aforesaid, the two boards shall separate, and the common council shall be organized by the choice of a president and clerk, who shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their duties.

In case of the absence of the mayor elect on the first Monday in April, the city government shall organize itself in the manner herein before provided, and may proceed to business in the same manner as if the mayor were present, and the oath of office may be administered to the mayor at any time thereafter, in a convention of the two branches.

In the absence of the mayor, the board of aldermen may choose a chairman pro tempore, who shall preside at joint meetings of the two boards.

Each board shall keep a record of its own proceedings, and judge of the election of its own members; and, in case of failure of an election, or in case of any vacancy declared by either board, the mayor and aldermen shall order a new election.

SECT. 7. The mayor thus chosen and qualified shall be the chief executive officer of said city. It shall be his duty to be vigilant in causing the laws and regulations of the city to be enforced, and keep a general supervision over the conduct of all subordinate officers, and to cause their neglect of duty to be punished. He may call special meetings of the boards of aldermen and common council, or either of them, when necessary, in his opinion, by causing notices to be left at the places of residence of the several members; he shall communicate, from time to time, to both of them, such information, and recommend such measures, as, in his opinion, the interests of the city may require; he shall preside in the board of aldermen, and in convention of the two boards; but shall have a casting vote only. His salary shall be, for the first year under this charter, four hundred dollars, and no more. He shall afterwards receive for his services, such salary as the city council shall determine, and shall receive no other compensation; but such salary shall not be increased or diminished during his continuance in office.

SECT. 8. The executive power of said city generally, and the administration of the police, with all the powers heretofore vested in the selectmen of Lynn, shall be vested in the mayor and aldermen as fully as if the same were herein specially enumerated.

And the mayor and aldermen shall have full and exclusive power to appoint a constable and assistants, or a city marshal and assistants, with the powers and duties of constables, and all other police officers; and may remove the same, when, in their opinion, sufficient cause for removal exists.

All other powers now vested in the inhabitants of said town, and all powers granted by this act, shall be vested in the mayor and aldermen and common council of said city, to be exercised by concurrent vote, each board to have a negative upon the other. But the city council shall, annually, as soon after their organization as may be convenient, elect, by joint ballot, in convention, a city treasurer, collector of taxes, and city clerk, and shall, in such manner as said city council shall determine, by any by-law made for the purpose, appoint or elect all subordinate officers, not herein otherwise directed, for the ensuing year, define their duties, and fix their compensations, in cases where such duties and compensations shall not be defined and fixed by the laws of this commonwealth.

All sittings of the common council shall be public, and all sittings of the mayor and aldermen when they are not engaged in executive business. The city council shall take care that money shall not be paid from the treasury unless granted or appropriated; shall secure a just and prompt accountability, by requiring bonds, with sufficient penalty and sureties, from all persons trusted with the receipt, custody, or disbursement of money; shall have the care and superintendence of city buildings, and the custody and management of all city property, with power to let or sell what may be legally let or sold, except the common; and to purchase property, real or personal, in the name, and for the use of the city, whenever its interest or convenience, may, in their judgment, require it.

And the city council shall, as often as once a year, cause to be published, for the use of the inhabitants, a particular account of receipts and expenditures, and a schedule of city property.

SECT. 9. No person shall be eligible to any office, the salary of which is payable out of the city treasury, who, at the time of his appointment, shall be a member either of the board of aldermen or common council; and neither the mayor, nor any alderman, or member of the common council, shall, at the same time, hold any other office in the city government: provided, however, that the mayor and president of the common council shall be, ex officio, members of the school committee.

SECT. 10. Said city council shall have power to choose a city clerk, who shall be clerk of the board of aldermen. He shall perform such duties as shall be prescribed by the board of aldermen, and shall perform all the duties, and exercise all the powers, by law incumbent upon, or vested in, the town clerk of Lynn.

SECT. 11. An act establishing the fire department in the town of Lynn, passed March twenty-third, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, shall continue in force, and all the power and authority now vested in the selectmen of Lynn, in relation to the fire department in that town, shall be transferred to, and vested in, the mayor and aldermen.

SECT. 12. The overseers of the poor shall have all the powers, and be subject to all the duties, now by law appertaining to the overseers of the poor for the town of Lynn.

The assessors to be chosen, as herein before provided, shall constitute the board of assessors, and shall exercise the same powers, and be subject to the same duties and liabilities that the assessors in the several towns in the commonwealth may exercise, or be subject to, under existing laws, and shall be sworn to the faithful performance of their duty.

All taxes shall be assessed, apportioned, and collected, in the manner prescribed by the laws of the commonwealth: provided, however, that the city council may establish further or additional provisions for the collection thereof.

SECT. 13. The city council shall have exclusive authority and power to lay out any new street or town-way, and to estimate the damages any individual may sustain thereby; but all questions relating to the subject of laying out, accepting, altering, or discontinuing any street or way, shall first be acted upon by the mayor and aldermen.

And any person dissatisfied with the decision of the city council, in the estimate of damages, may make complaint to the county commissioners of the county of Essex, at any meeting held within one year after such decision, whereupon the same proceedings shall be had as are now provided by the laws of the commonwealth, in cases where persons are aggrieved by the assessment of damages by the selectmen, in the twenty-fourth chapter of the Revised Statutes.

SECT. 14. All power and authority now by law vested in the board of health for the town of Lynn, or in the selectmen of said town, shall be transferred to, and invested in, the city council, to be carried into execution in such manner as the city council shall deem expedient.

SECT. 15. The city council shall have authority to cause drains and common sewers to be laid down through any streets or private lands, paying the owners such damage as they may sustain thereby, and to require all persons to pay a reasonable sum for the privilege of opening any drain into said public drain or common sewer.

And the city council may make by-laws, with suitable penalties, for the inspection, survey, measurement, and sale of lumber, wood, coal, and bark, brought into the city for sale.

SECT. 16. The mayor and aldermen shall, in each year, issue their warrant for calling meetings for the election of the whole number of representatives to the general court, to which said city is by law entitled, and the number shall be specified in the warrant.

SECT. 17. All elections for county, state, and United States officers, who are voted for by the people, shall be held at meetings of the citizens qualified to vote in such elections, in their respective wards, at the time fixed by law for these elections respectively; and, at such meetings, all the votes, given for said officers respectively, shall be assorted, counted, declared, and registered, in open ward meeting, by causing the names of all persons voted for, and the number of votes given for each, to be written in the ward record in words at length. The ward clerk shall forthwith deliver to the city clerk a certified copy of the record of such elections.

The city clerk shall forthwith record such returns, and the mayor and aldermen shall, within two days after every such election, examine and compare all said returns, and make out a certificate of the result of such elections, to be signed by the mayor and a majority of the aldermen, and also by the city clerk, which shall be transmitted or delivered in the same manner as similar returns are by law directed to be made by selectmen of towns. And in all elections for representatives to the general court, in case the whole number proposed to be elected shall not be chosen by a majority of the votes legally returned, the mayor and aldermen shall forthwith issue their warrant for a new election, conformably to the provisions of the constitution and the laws of the commonwealth.

SECT. 18. Prior to every election, the mayor and aldermen shall make out lists of all the citizens of each ward, qualified to vote in such elections, in the manner in which selectmen of towns are required to make out lists of voters; and, for that purpose, they shall have full access to the assessors' books and lists, and be entitled to the assistance of all assessors and city officers; and they shall deliver said lists, so prepared and corrected, to the clerks of said wards, to be used at such elections; and no person shall be entitled to vote whose name is not borne on such lists.

SECT. 19. General meetings, of the citizens qualified to vote, may, from time to time, be held, to consult upon the public good, to instruct their representatives, and to take all lawful measures to obtain redress for any grievances, according to the right secured to the people by the constitution of this commonwealth.

And such meetings may, and shall be duly warned, by the mayor and aldermen, upon the requisition of fifty qualified voters.

SECT. 20. The city council shall have power to make all such salutary and needful by-laws as towns, by the laws of this commonwealth, have power to make and establish, and to annex penalties, not exceeding twenty dollars, for the breach thereof; which by-laws shall take effect, and be in force, from and after the time therein respectively limited, without the sanction of any court, or other authority whatever: provided, however, that all laws and regulations, now in force in the town of Lynn, shall, until they shall expire by their own limitation, or be revised or repealed by the city council, remain in force, and all fines and forfeitures, for the breach of any by-law or ordinance, shall be paid into the city treasury.

SECT. 21. All fines, forfeitures, and penalties, accruing for the breach of any by-laws of the city of Lynn, or of any of the ordinances of the city council, or of any of the orders of the mayor and aldermen, may be prosecuted for and recovered, before the police court in said city of Lynn, by complaint or information, in the same way and manner in which other criminal offences are now prosecuted before the police courts within this commonwealth; reserving, however, in all cases, to the party complained of and prosecuted, the right of appeal to the court of common pleas, then next to be held in the county of Essex, from the judgment and sentence of the police court.

And the appeal shall be allowed on the same terms, and the proceedings shall be conducted therein in the same manner, as provided in the one hundred and thirty-eighth chapter of the Revised Statutes of this commonwealth.

And it shall be sufficient, in all such prosecutions, to set forth, in the complaint, the offence fully, plainly, substantially, and formally; and it shall not be necessary to set forth such by-law, ordinance, or order, or any part thereof.

All fines, forfeitures, and penalties, so recovered and paid, shall be paid to the treasurer of the city of Lynn, and shall enure to such uses as said council shall direct.

When any person, upon any conviction before the police court, for any breach of any by-law of said city of Lynn, or any of the ordinances of the city council, or any of the orders of the mayor and aldermen, shall be sentenced to pay a fine, or ordered to pay any penalty or forfeiture, provided by any such by-law, ordinance, or order, or, upon claiming an appeal, shall fail to recognize for his appearance at the court appealed to, and there to prosecute his appeal, and to abide the sentence or order of the court thereon, and, in the meantime, to keep the peace and be of good behavior; and, upon not paying the fine, penalty, or forfeiture, and cost so assessed upon him, he shall be committed to prison, there to remain until he or she shall pay such fine, forfeiture, or penalty, and costs, or be otherwise discharged according to law.

The provisions of this section shall also apply to all prosecutions founded on the by-laws or ordinances of the town of Lynn, which may continue in force after this act shall go into operation, and all the powers of the police court, already established, shall be continued to it.

SECT. 22. For the purpose of organizing the system of government hereby established, and putting the same into operation, in the first instance, the selectmen of the town of Lynn, for the time being, shall, on some day during the months of April, May, or June, of the present year, issue their warrants seven days at least previous to the day so appointed for calling meetings of the said citizens, at such place and hour as they may deem expedient, for the purpose of choosing a warden, clerk, and inspectors for each ward, and all other officers whose election is provided for in the preceding sections of this act, and the transcripts of the records of each ward, specifying the votes given for the several officers aforesaid, certified by the warden and clerk of such ward at said first meeting, shall be returned to the said selectmen, whose duty it shall be to examine and compare the same, and, in case said elections should not be completed at the first meeting, then to issue new warrants until such elections shall be completed; and to give notice thereof, in the manner herein before provided, to the several persons elected.

And, at said first meeting, any inhabitant of said ward, being a legal voter, may call the citizens to order, and preside until a warden shall have been chosen. And, at said first meeting, a list of voters in each ward, prepared and corrected by the selectmen for the time being, shall be delivered to the clerk of each ward, when elected, to be used as herein before provided. And the selectmen shall appoint such time for the first meeting of the city council as they may judge proper, after the choice of city officers, as aforesaid, or a majority of the members of both branches, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and shall also fix upon the place and the hour of said first meeting, and a written notice thereof shall be sent, by said selectmen, to the place of abode of each of the city officers chosen as provided in this section.

And after this first election of city officers, and this first meeting for the organization of the city council, as in this section is provided, the day of holding the annual elections, and the day and hour for the meeting of the city council, for the purpose of organization, shall remain as provided in the sixth section of this act.

And it shall be the duty of the city council immediately after the first organization, to elect all necessary city officers, who shall hold their offices respectively until others are chosen and qualified.

SECT. 23. All officers of the town of Lynn, having the care and custody of any records, papers, or property, belonging to said town, shall deliver the same to the city clerk, within one week after his entering upon the duties of his office.

SECT. 24. All such acts, and parts of acts, as are inconsistent with the provisions of this act, shall be, and the same are, hereby repealed.

SECT. 25. Nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prevent the legislature from altering or amending the same whenever they shall deem it expedient.

SECT. 26. This act shall be void, unless the inhabitants of the town of Lynn, at a legal meeting called for that purpose, at which the selectmen shall preside, and the check list used in the same manner as at meetings called to choose state officers, and the polls be kept open at least ten hours, shall, by a vote of a majority of the voters present, and voting thereon, yea or nay, by a written ballot, determine to adopt the same within twenty days from and after its passage.

SECT. 27. This act shall go into operation from and after its passage.

CIRCUIT OF NAHANT,

Beginning on Bass neck road, and passing eastward, showing all the principal places which the curious may wish to visit.

Black rock	Steamboat wharf	Bennett's head
Johnson's beach	Irene's grotto	Canoe beach
West cliff	Swallow's cave	Cedar point
Reed cove	Cow beach	Castle rock
Bass point	Pea island	Bass beach
Lewis' beach	Shag rocks, in sea	Hood's point
Bailey's hill	Bathing beach	Rose Fish cove
Pond beach	Great ledge	Saunders' ledge
Dorothy's beach	Sappho's rock	Egg rock, in sea
Marjam's hill	Pulpit rock	Spouting horn
Crystal beach	Natural bridge	Dashing rock
Nipper stage	Steep cliff	Black mine
Curlew beach	Roaring cavern	Stony beach
Bass rock	Turk's head	North spring
Joseph's beach	East point	John's peril

As there is now a good road over Long beach, access may be had to Nahant at all hours; but the pleasantest time for a drive over the beach is at low water, or between that and half tide. The same time should be taken to visit the Swallow's cave, as the water passes through it at high tide. The best time to view the dashings of the Spouting horn, is when the wind is eastward, and the tide coming in.

The people of Nahant, as well as visitors there, are greatly indebted to Frederic Tudor, Esq. for his care in embellishing Nahant by the construction of side walks, and setting out many thousand shade trees along the avenues, for several miles in extent. His gardens are great curiosities, and his hydraulic works, by which he raises water spontaneously to the height of more than ninety feet, for the purpose of watering them, are the admiration of all.

A complete map of Nahant has been made by Alonzo Lewis, showing every lot as it was originally laid out, with the names of the present owners, which will be found very convenient to proprietors, and to persons wishing to purchase land there. Many interesting historical particulars respecting Nahant may be found in the History of Lynn, which may be obtained of the author, or of Mr. Thomas Herbert.

NOTE.—As this is the first time an attempt has been made to give an account of the shoe business in all its details, it may not be exactly correct, but probably approaches very near the actual sums. We recommend to the manufacturers to keep exact accounts of their business in all its particulars, for their own interest, as well as for the purpose of making the succeeding numbers of the Directory more interesting.

SIZES OF SHOES.—As many persons do not know the "sizes" of shoes, we will take the liberty to inform them. A size is the length of one "barley corn," or one third of an inch. A size-stick is thus formed: Take a rule, or piece of wood, thirteen inches in length, and divide it into thirty-nine equal parts, of one third of an inch each. The first thirteen are left blank, and counted nothing. The second thirteen are called children's sizes. The third thirteen are called men's and women's sizes; each marked from one to thirteen. Thus nine inches is a man's size No. 1. Ten inches is No. 4. Eleven inches is No. 7. Twelve inches is No. 10.

☞ WE wish to make a few remarks on the propriety and importance of persons purchasing or selling land, having it measured, and the deed and title properly made and secured, by a competent surveyor. Many persons think that if they measure the land and write the deed themselves, they have saved a dollar; but probably more expense and property is wasted in lawsuits from this defect than from almost any other cause. Others employ some cheap surveyor, who understands nothing of the variation or attraction of the compass, and who measures with a chain longer or shorter than the standard measure. Much of our business, both in and out of town, has been re-surveying these incorrect measurements, and renewing these imperfect deeds. In one instance we found a defect of seven acres in a single farm, which made a difference of more than four thousand dollars to the proprietors. People cannot be too careful in securing their real estate. They are requested to remember that Alonzo Lewis makes surveying his business.

LYNN HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE.

The High School House, of whose external appearance the engraving on the next page is a good representation, was erected at a cost of about $7000, under the superintendence of a building committee appointed by the town, March 16, 1850. It was dedicated January 8, 1851. An appropriate address was delivered by Rev. B. Sears, secretary of the Board of Education, and addresses were also made by Messrs. Hood, Shackford, and Jacob Batchelder, jr.

The house is warmed and ventilated in the best manner. It is thoroughly built; and though without any superfluous ornament, is in good taste, and provided with ample accommodations. The main school room is about forty-six feet square and sixteen feet in height. The two recitation rooms are each twenty-two by twenty-five feet. These are furnished with settees, and the school room with Wales's patent desks and chairs. The whole cost of building, grading, fencing, seats, apparatus, &c. has been about $9,500. The appropriation by a vote of the town for this object was $12,000.

The number of scholars admitted in 1849 was forty-seven; in 1850, about the same number. At the examination for admission of scholars this year, (1851,) seventy-one candidates presented themselves, and forty-two were admitted. It is intended that there shall be, at this school, a three years' course of study. In order to enter, pupils are required to pass a good examination in the elementary studies pursued at the Grammar Schools. And those scholars who complete the prescribed three years' course of study, shall be entitled to receive a diploma, signed by the teachers and the school committee. At present there are seats provided for one hundred and twenty scholars.

For two years the school has maintained the highest reputation, and it is, undoubtedly, an institution of which our city may boast, as one of the best in the state. The school, when full, will be under the instruction of one principal and two assistants. The pupils receive the best instruction, without money and without price. They are removed from the annoying presence of smaller scholars; and, in the commodious rooms provided for them, they can prepare themselves, by an extended course of mathematical, philosophical and classical studies, for the responsibilities of active life.

LYNN HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Business Cards displayed in this work exhibit a laudable spirit of enterprise, showing that Lynn is not exclusively a shoe-manufacturing city, though it takes the lead, in that respect, as exhibited on page 155. With such advantages in our midst, it will hardly be required of us to advise our citizens to patronize home industry, on which, in a great measure, must depend the growth and prosperity of our young city.
